Atlantic-South Will Continue Fight on Auto-Wrecking Yard

Won't Give Up Despite Fact Town Has Area Zoned as Industrial

Despite the contentions of Town and Village authorities that nothing can be done to prevent the establishment of a junk and auto-wrecking yard on town land at the foot of Main st., south of Freeport Bay Estates, the Atlantic-South Civic Association plans to continue the fight, Tredwell H. Hopkins, who is in charge, announced today.

"We're not going to take the junk yard, lying down," he declared. Following the August meeting of the association, Secretary Harry H. Zorger sent a petition to Presiding Supervisor A. Holly Patterson which read:

"We, the undersigned property owners in southeast Freeport, N. Y., protest the establishment of an auto wrecking and junk yard off South Main st., on Town of Hempstead lands and respectfully urge the Town Board to see that steps are taken to prevent operation of such a business adjacent to our homes."

About 90 percent of the owners of property on Bedell st., East Bedell st., President st., and West First, Second, Third and Fourth sts., all who could be reached, signed the petition.

Moffitt Owns the Area

The matter also was taken up with the Village Board and Mr. Hopkins received a reply from Mayor Robert L. Dossie in which he said Thomas E. Moffitt, of Rockville Centre, owned approximately 200 acres east and west of the foot of South Main st., and had leased a plot 200 by 1,400 feet on the east side to a concern which plans to develop the auto-wrecking and junk yard.

Northeast Civics Seek Elimination Of B'dway, Columbus, Parsons 'Jog'

The Northeast Civic Association at its monthly meeting in the home of Harry J. Berkowitz, 215 North Ocean ave., Friday night, voted to appeal to the Village Board to take steps to eliminate the jog at Broadway, North Columbus and Parsons aves., which the members contended is a peril for motorists.

George V. Maurer, superintendent of the Water Department remarked that four fire hydrants had been hit by cars at that point, within a few months, and that as a result of his complaint the turn at Broadway and North Columbus ave., was to be marked to eliminate speeding in the area.

The Association pointing to the narrowness of Broadway, voted to urge the authorities to enforce the one-hour parking limitation in that street by day and to put a ban on all night parking the entire length of the street.

Mr. Berkowitz called attention to the fact that a crew employed by the Nassau County sweeps the gutters of Main st., starting about 6:30 A.M., and that some merchants on the street have their stores a couple hours brush the litter from the sidewalks into the clean gutters. It was pointed out that there is a village ordinance prohibiting this practice. It was voted to write the presidents of the Freeport Merchants Association and the Freeport Chamber of Commerce calling their attention to the ordinance and requesting them to appeal to the members of the two organizations to live up to it.

There was considerable criticism of the village for its failure to have required C. Milton Foreman to do something about the brook which flows through its property adjacent to Parking Field 4, to prevent it from over-running its bank on occasion before he was paid for the acquired from him for the field.

The association at a previous meeting voted to appeal to the Village Board to do something about the overflowing of the brook. In a letter signed by Mayor Robert L. Dossie, was received. It read:

"The question of the brook on the east side of Parking Field 4 came up for discussion by the Board on July 10th. It seems at certain times there is some flooding in that area and a survey is being made to see what can be done to alleviate the occasional flood condition.

"As far as covering up the brook is concerned that does not appear to be a matter that the village can (Continued on Page 6)

Abandon Bus Route In Pennsylvania Ave.

The proposed bus route through Pennsylvania ave. which stirred up such a hornet's nest several years ago is eliminated from "further consideration" in a "Supplement to the Third Report of the Nassau County Transit Commission, just issued by County Executive J. Russel Sprague. This line would have been routed from the Terminal on Henry st., to Pennsylvania ave., and Nassau rd., via Main st. and West Seaman ave.

However, it is recommended that consideration be given to a Brookside ave. route "with-in a year."

Another recommendation for future consideration is the establishment of a route from the Terminal to the Valley Stream Railroad Station via Brooklyn and Long Beach aves., to West Seaman, thence through West Seaman to Lakeview ave., Rockville Centre, Lakewood ave., and Merrick rd., Valley Stream.

Adult Circulation Shows 700 Gain Over July 1949

Adult circulation statistics at the Freeport Memorial Library showed an increase of almost 700 over figures for the same department in the month of July. Mrs. Elizabeth P. Kelly, librarian explained a noticeable increase in the number of non-fiction borrowed, the highest number circulated being to the field of useful arts.

Apparently too, more persons are taking advantage of the growing records collection, she said.

Mrs. Kelly restated that vacation privileges are still available to persons wishing to take books along on their holiday.

Rocco Pittino Dies; Former Contractor

Rocco Pittino, who was a contractor in Freeport until ten years ago when he became incapacitated, died Friday at his home, 7 East Dean st. The Rev. John P. Drab, assistant pastor, solemnized a requiem mass in Our Holy Redeemer R.C. Church Monday at 10 A.M., and burial followed in Holy Rood Cemetery, Westbury.

Born in Italy, 50 years ago, Mr. Pittino had been a resident of the United States for 35 years and of Freeport a quarter of a century. Surviving are his wife, Mary Pittino; three sons, Anthony, Frank and Dominic; four daughters, Mrs. Dose Dapolito, Mrs. Lucy Polanino, Mrs. Nettie Polanino and Miss Angelina Pittino, and five grandchildren.

Diane Halliwell, Star at 4, Sought By Two of Biggest 'Movie' Concerns

Shirley Temple's juvenile successor may have been found in Freeport in the person of little Diane Halliwell, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Halliwell, 156 East Milton st. At this tender age, two of the leading motion picture corporations are bidding for her services—Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Paramount Pictures.

A pupil of the Academy of Theatrical Arts, for two years, Diane was spotted at the recent "Stars of Tomorrow" program in the Grove Theatre and the battle to get the signature of her parents to a contract got underway almost immediately.

$826,020 Bond Issue For Sewers, Parking Fields Authorized

Pumping Stations and Forced Mains Included; Large Savings Recorded.

The Village Board at a special meeting Monday night authorized a bond issue totaling $826,020.00 to finance the construction of trunk sewers in the southern section of the village, pumping stations and force mains and parking fields.

The original estimate of the cost of construction the trunk sewers was $491,218.48 but the work was completed at a price of $463,164.37, a saving of $28,054.11. Of this amount $304,763.33 was levied against property owners in the area, of which $110,644.37 was collected leaving $194,119 to be included in the bond issue chargeable to those benefitted by the sewers in lieu of laterals plus $158,401.30 to be charged against the village at large making the issue for trunk sewers total $552,520.30.

Force mains pumping stations cost $125,000 of which $6,500 was met with a capital note, leaving $118,500 to be financed by the bond issue.

Parking fields estimated to cost $593,300 were completed for $492,817.71, a saving of $100,482.29, of which $357,646.60 was assessed against the benefitted area. Of this amount $107,549.75 was paid on the assessments, leaving $250,096.85 unpaid to be included in the bond issue, plus $138,682.22 to be met for by the village at large, making the total $388,779.07. This is reduced to $355,000, as other funds totaling $33,779.07 have been applied to the fund. The total amount is divided $156,696 for the acquisition of land, $217,440 for concrete paving and $114,264 for other forms of less durable paving.

Bids for the sale of these bonds will be advertised as soon as the necessary preliminaries can be disposed of.

junk yard. He added it was definitely going ahead with the project. The Mayor expressed his regret, but asserted that as the town had zoned the area as industrial "nothing can be done about it."

Mr. Hopkins has proposed a conference between Village Counsel Martin H. Weyrauch and town authorities in an effort to find some way to avoid having to grant a license to operate the yard.

Protests to Town Clerk
He also has written Town Clerk Hamilton S. Gaddis, urging that a license be denied first on the grounds that only narrow streets lead to the point of land in question, and that these streets run through an extensive area which is zoned as Residence 'A' by the Village of Freeport.

Next Mr. Hopkins points out that "the Village of Freeport no longer permits the establishment of auto wrecking and junk yard business even in its industrial zones and has at present only one such plant carried on as a non-conforming use."

Thirdly, he wrote: "The Village of Freeport (as shown by a letter we have from Mayor Robert L. Dosses) is opposed to the establishment of this business because this small area in the Town of Hempstead and just beyond the official limits of Freeport, is an integral part of the Freeport area and dependent on it. The character of the development of this land should conform to the abutting property in Freeport. At present there is a big stepdown from Residence 'A' in Freeport and Industrial in the Town."

As his fourth point, Mr. Hopkins pointed out that "a large residential area just north of the town lands has been acquired by a corporation for the purpose of building waterfront homes."

"We believe," he continued, "that this desirable project will be ended by the setting up of such an obnoxious and unsightly business as a junk yard."

Site Visible for Miles
Finally he contended that the "proposed sight of the junk yard is on flat land visible for miles over the bay waterfront."

"Such an unsightly business in this location," he insisted, "is definitely not a good advertisement for Freeport or Nassau County. With all the fine things that the town, county and state have done to beautify Long Island, we do not feel that any governing official would approve of this step."

He concluded by advising the Town Clerk that a meeting on Aug. 3, the association, with a membership of 600, voted unanimously to ask the Town Board to find a way to deny granting a license for the operation of the yard.

It has been proposed that application be made for the annexation of the area to the incorporated limits of Freeport. However, this is said to be quite out of the question, with Mr. Moffitt being practically the sole owner of the area involved.

The association also is opposing the application of a property owner on Arthur st., for a change of zoning for five lots from Residential "A" to Manufacturing. Twenty persons on the street have signed a petition against granting the request. It is planned to circulate similar petitions among the owners of property on adjacent streets.

Nassau County Red Cross Issues Call For Women as Volunteer Staff Aides

More Nassau women are needed to serve as volunteer Red Cross staff aides, Mrs. Harold E. Miller, of Garden City, chairman of the aides, announced today. She explained they are now serving in the office of the Red Cross field director at Mitchell Field and at county ARC headquarters.

Last year, 98 staff aides served 1,907 hours, assisting in the work of all departments of the county ARC chapter. Volunteers of this Red Cross service made an enviable record during the last war when their corps numbered 712 volunteers who served more than a quarter of a million hours. Many served at Mitchell Field and others at the draft boards besides aiding at Red Cross headquarters.

A special course to train staff aides will be conducted in the Fall, Mrs. Edward G. Richmond, of Garden City, chairman of the ARC Chapter's volunteer services, announced.

Taley Gallucci Opens House of Music Here
Taley Gallucci, who while a student at Baldwin High School was an outstanding athlete, is the proprietor of the House of Music just opened at 97 South Main st. He was among the "greats" as a football player during the early 1930s when the Golden Waves constituted an outstanding grid combination.

Taley's wife is the former Dot Whaley, who was graduated from Freeport High School in 1932 and who was noted for her athletic ability. She excelled in field hockey, basketball and track. They have a son and a daughter, Barry, 8 and Donna, 5, who attend the Seaman ave. school. The family home is at 174 North Brookside ave. The House of Music is to be primarily a record shop, but will also handle sheet music, portable radios and allied merchandise.

"My telephone grows in value every day"

"I can reach so many more of my friends by telephone."

Today, in Freeport alone there are 7,400 more telephones—76 per cent more—than there were in 1945.

Every added telephone means bigger value for you. You can reach more of your friends—more shops and stores—more business people. More of them can reach you. Your service is fast and clear and courteous.

Today your telephone is a bigger bargain than ever in convenience, security, satisfaction and pleasure. Yet the price you pay for your service has gone up much less than the price of almost anything else you buy.

1950 Freeport Playground Season Is Ended With the Annual Play Day

The 1950 season of the Board of Education playgrounds was brought to a close yesterday with the annual play day at Randall Park. There were a full day of events, including games, relays, stunts and refreshments for all.

Arts and crafts exhibitions were held in the Seaman and Columbus ave. playgrounds Monday night and Tuesday night. They were largely attended by relatives and friends of the youngsters who were interested in seeing the work turned out during the classes in these subjects. Registration for the six weeks totaled 1,819 with an attendance of 18,041 for a daily average of 668.

The final championships were decided last week. The Columbus ave. teams won the junior and senior girls' badminton honors, and Archer the doubles for these groups. In kickball, the Seaman Juniors took the title and the Archer seniors. In table tennis Seaman won the boys' junior singles, girls' senior singles and both boys' and girls' junior doubles. Archer took the girls' junior singles and the girls' senior doubles; Columbus the boys' senior singles and the boys' senior doubles. Seaman has won the senior and junior softball tournaments, while there tie between Columbus and Archer in the cube division.

The summaries:
GIRLS' BADMINTON
Junior Singles—First, Mildred Lewis, Columbus; second, Eugenia Appel, Seaman; third, Gail Rammen, Archer; fourth, Emma Lee, Cleveland.
Senior Singles—First, Ann Vallone, Columbus; second, Alice Grogan, Archer; third, Pat Egan, Seaman; fourth, Frances Thomas, Cleveland.
Junior Doubles—First, Nancy Fugitt-Barbura, Archer; second, Denise and Joan Jaworski, Columbus; third, Joan Hinch, Seaman; fourth, Frances Thomas, Cleveland.
Senior Doubles—First, Mildred Johnson, Ann Engelman, Archer; second, Beatrice Oshues, Caroline Ricker, Seaman; third, Marianne Lacy, Carol Sutherland, Columbus; fourth, Willie Mae Williams, Georgia Saylor, Cleveland.

KITE FLYING
Cubs—First, John Wilson, Columbus; second, John Egan, Seaman; third, Frank Madaglia, Cleveland; fourth, Jim Cassidy, Archer.
Juniors—First, John Boyle, Seaman; second, George Di Gaseo, Columbus; third, Bob Cassidy, Archer; fourth, Isiah Smith, Cleveland.
Seniors—First, William E. Creveland, Columbus; second, Peter Humphreys, Archer; third, Charles Laing, Cleveland; fourth, Peter Egan, Seaman.

Night of Soccer Planned by P.B.C.

3 Games Scheduled At Stadium; Lewis Wins Outboard Race

A night of soccer is to be sponsored by the Freeport Police Boys Club Wednesday night at the Municipal Stadium. At 6:15 and 7 P.M., local teams will engage in two games with Minerva squads. The preliminary contest will be followed by an encounter in which two outstanding amateur teams, Hota and the German Hungarians, will be the attraction.

Henry Moller, who directs and coaches the P.B.C. teams has been a New York State soccer referee for 26 years. He will officiate at Wednesday night's games.

Skippy Lewis, won first prize in the final Long Island Boat Racing Association outboard soapbox racing meet of the season at East Moriches, Sunday afternoon. Racing his 7½ horsepower Mercury motor, he was nosed out at the finish of the three-lap first heat by Joe Sanderich, with Bruce Giles crossing the line third. They were credited with 400, 300 and 225 points respectively. Alan Lea and Giles took the lead at the start of the second heat, with Lewis in third place. However, in the second lap, Lea took a turn too fast and Lewis passed him. Giles and Lewis then fought it out with Giles leading at the final turn. Lewis passed him on the straight way. This gave him 700 points to 525 for Giles and 400 for Sanderich.

There will be a race at Hewlett Sunday at 1:30 P.M., and probably another on Sunday, Sept. 17, off Guy Lombardo's East Point House for the final points and trophy.

The Corsairs defeated the Panthers, 12 to 3, in a hardball game of the junior league. John Castle pitched a no-hitter for the victors but bases on balls and errors belied him enabled the Panthers to score three runs.

The score:
Panthers ... 010 100 1—3 0 5
Corsairs ... 231 192 12 16 3
Estimates—Peltassi and Ramsden; Castle and Moose.

Mrs. Emilie Olsen, 77, Is Buried in Brooklyn

The Rev. A. Gordon MacRury, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, conducted funeral services in the Fulton Parlor for Mrs. Emilie Olsen, who died after a long illness in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter C. Hawkins, 241 Moore ave., Tuesday, Aug. 1. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. Mrs. Olsen was born in Norway, 77 years ago, came to the United States at the age of 17 and had lived in Freeport 19 years. Her husband, Elnor Olsen died ten years ago. She was a member of the Lutheran Church but never affiliated with Christ Church here.

Besides her daughter, Ellen A. Hawkins, she left a brother, Alexander Olsen, in Dinwiddie, N.Y. and a granddaughter, Hazel Olsen.

Republicans All Set For Outing Saturday

Everything is in readiness for the annual outing and picnic of the Freeport Republican Club Saturday at the West Beach of the Hempstead Town Park at Point Lookout. Julius L. Birgenthal and Bertram C. Smith Jr., are co-chairmen of the committee of arrangements.

Activities will get under way before noon and continue through the afternoon. Buses which will leave the northwest corner of Brooklyn and Ocean aves., at 11 A.M., have been provided for those who otherwise would be unable to get to the event.

There will be games for persons of all ages with prizes for the winners.

The club conducted a modified penny sale Thursday night in the dugout in charge of Mrs. Rosa DiTomas. Marbles also were played.

NEPOSIT MAN ACQUIRES FREEPORT FLOOR COVERING

Henry Tennin has acquired the Freeport Floor Covering Co., 7 East Sunrise Highway from Sidney Garfinkle, who is retiring from business. Mr. Tennin comes to Freeport from Neponsit, L. I., where he also was in the floor covering business as an employee.

After many years of hard work and saving he finally has achieved a life long ambition of going into business for himself. He plans to move to Freeport to live as soon as he can find accommodations for himself and family.

Baptists Mark End Of Vacation School
16 Get Certificates For Perfect Attendance At Closing Exercises
The closing exercises of the Daily Bible Vacation School of the First Baptist Church were held in the church Sunday night. Miss Edith Worrall, the director of the school, which was continued for two weeks with an enrollment of 53, was in charge of the program, in which the beginners, primary and junior departments participated. There were songs, a quiz, recitation of Bible verses and a demonstration of the Tabernacle by Judith Minnerly.
A feature was the playing of the accordion by John Sayers, 7 years old. There also was the choral choir, comprised of six five-year-olds, all attired in gowns. They were Kitty Stephens, Wayne Davis, Carol Young, John Sayers, Susan Minnerly and Raymond Garrett. Young Sayers also received two certificates as a reward for bringing four others into the school.
Certificates were presented 16 members who had a perfect attendance. They were Jean McKeen, Carol Young, Kitty Stephens, Betty Vorbeck, Susan Minnerly, Jack Carl, Thomas Brennan, John Vorbeck, Karen Judd, Karen Carl, Larry Ames, John Sayers, Laura Minnerly, Roger Swanson, Edward Swanson and Judith Minnerly.
The Rev. Dr. Louis H. Losch, the pastor, offered prayer and pronounced the benediction. Dr. Losch will be on his vacation during the next four Sundays when the evening services will be omitted. The Rev. Frank Vulture of Ocean-side will preach Sunday morning and on Sept. 3, while the Rev. Linfield Detweiler will be heard on Aug. 27 and the Rev. Leonard Pitcher on Sept. 10. Herman P. Johnson will conduct the prayer meetings next Wednesday night and Sept. 6 and Paul L. Johnson on Aug. 30.

Happiness Machine

Once upon a time a group of people got together and built the best Happiness Machine in history.

But when it was ready they got to fighting over who should get the most happiness.

They kept fighting, and the machine slowed down.

Soon the price of Happiness skyrocketed.

Finally they all died of broken hearts right next to the greatest Happiness Machine the world had ever seen.

But, here is a better ending . . .

They stopped fighting among themselves.

They got together like sensible human beings . . . management, labor, farmers, consumers.

And they said "Look" . . . we've got something wonderful and special here in America . . . something so good it saved all the rest of the world twice in the last 25 years.

"It isn't perfect yet . . . we still have ups and downs of prices and jobs. But our system has worked better than anything else that's ever been tried.

"And we can make it better still . . . we can build for peace as we built for war without even working harder . . . just working TOGETHER.

"We can invent and use more and better machines . . . can supply more power. We can work out better methods in our factories, stores and offices. We can have collective bargaining. We can develop more skills on the job.

"By doing these things we can produce more every hour we work, at constantly lower costs.

"The bigger the flow of goods, the more there will be for everyone.

"Higher wages to buy the good things of life, and more leisure to enjoy them."

So that's the way they did it.

And they lived happily ever after.

How to Attract New Industries to Freeport AND VICINITY

CHAPTER X

The larger portion of text in this series to date has summarized what types of information should be available for prospective business firms interested in Freeport and vicinity as a location for their operations. The data, when compiled, will also prove of great value to firms now operating here. We also have listed sources of information which will be authoritative and can help to expedite collection of the necessary information.

It is a long-established fact that good market research takes time and costs money. Much of the costs ordinarily experienced in this type of program has been spared us by suggestion on obtaining cooperative volunteer working forces. The small expenditure that will be required to complete the program as proposed here will be repaid many times over in benefits the community will receive from the first plant we locate here.

When the Supervising Committee has completed the collection of primary data from Public Utilities, Transportation Companies and Municipal Authorities, some direct field research will be needed. Do not assume that anyone can automatically interview and collect the data. Even the most experienced research organizations study the questions to be asked and rehearse their method of approach.

A successful system for training field investigators is outlined as follows:

1. Be sure to have a full explanation sheet written for distribution to each field representative.
 2. Hold a meeting of the complete research organization. Be sure all supervisors are present and have been thoroughly acquainted with the procedures prior to the staff meeting.
 3. Conduct experimental interviews within the group.
 4. Give full explanation of the methods for filling in questionnaires.
 5. Set a definite time schedule for return of the completed forms.
- Helpful hints on helping investigators:
- A. Be sure instructions are so written that they tell the interviewer exactly what to do.
 - B. A report on each interview should be made.
 - C. Instructions should be as brief as possible, yet sufficiently complete to assure they are fully understood.
 - D. Instructions should be presented in a series of short paragraphs and written in easy-to-understand language.
 - E. All terms should be clearly defined.
 - F. The investigators should be instructed exactly when and where to call.

Almost any type of field research work will require call-backs. Investigators should be appraised of the importance of calling again upon places where no response was obtained.

As field investigators report their returns, each form should be edited before tabulating. This will add to the work slightly, but will go a long way toward improving the quality of the survey.

Letters to The Editor

Editor, The Leader:

Sir: Profitteering is rife these days with every type of concern out to get the most money possible and give the least possible in return. The latest to join the procession are the laundries.

I am referring particularly to the racket in cleaning sports shirts. Until recently if a customer didn't want one dry cleaned, he could sign a release and have it washed and ironed at a reasonable figure. Evidently the laundry moguls discovered they were losing about 15 cents a shirt by this operation, so no more release. To have your shirt dry cleaned or else.

The cost of having several shirts dry cleaned every week is almost prohibitive, especially when it is unnecessary. Before I purchased the shirts in question I inquired whether they would stand washing. I was assured they would. I so advised the attendant at one of the chain stores, offered to sign a release but was informed she had strict orders and must abide by them. Not desiring to be gouged, I tried find a laundry that would do the work at a reasonable figure, but in vain.

A VICTIM.

Editor, The Leader:

Sir: The Arena Theatre of Great Neck, which has now been open for five weeks has attained somewhat of permanent stature with the advent of the stage hands union.

Since the third week there has been an ever lengthening picket line of scene shifters of the IATSE stage hands union in front of the theatre. One night one appeared, he was joined by another the next night and the third night I suggested that if the picket line got any longer it might be a good idea to widen the sidewalk in front of the theatre to accommodate both pickets and audience.

There is some confusion in the situation due to the fact that the Arena Theatre uses no scenery and therefore there is no scene shifting. Efforts have been made to invite the pickets in to demonstrate to them that, even if they were hired, there would not be anything for them to do. These negotiations reached a stalemate because the pickets felt it would be a "rigour" at the present state for them to join the audience even though the Arena Theatre magnanimously offered to let them in free.

Respectfully, Harrison Lewis

Editor of the Leader,

I take this opportunity to thank the many friends who have helped in our Youth Movement in the Park.

We have had several social affairs, including outdoor movies, which a large gathering appreciated. We wish to thank Patrolman Joseph Konek for the fine outing in carrying our boys to Ebbe's Field. Mrs. E. Harris also thanks the many friends who have encouraged the youths and the projects:

1. The hunt work for London.
2. They are also studying the life of David.
3. Training to be better citizens.

Respectfully,
Rev. R. G. Harris

The Leader Bookshelf

By MRS. ELIZABETH F. KELLY
Librarian, Freeport Memorial Library

On the warm sand or on a cool porch, a book which will make good summer reading is "The Boys from Sharon." This novel, written by Louise Field Cooper is a Book-of-the-Month Club selection.

It is the story of a family of three, a rich but rigidly conventional woman who completely dominates her brother, an antiquated person whose only purpose in life is to pose for the sketch of a desiccated entity, saved from pathos because he has no consciousness of his fossilization. The third occupant of the house is the elder man's daughter, Edith, a young lady who escapes her Aunt's direct notice by sulky rebellion.

When this group is visited by young relatives, two boys of twelve and eight years of age, the customary lives of the others are brought into focus. Personality interchanges and the love affair of Mrs. Fanning's niece, Edith, are the story of the novel. Starting with Mrs. Fanning and her brother and including the characterizations of the Swedish cook, everyone and

THE FAMILY CIRCLE

Barricades Against Crickets

In 1937, hordes of crickets swarmed over the small town of Sundance, Wyoming. They crawled into homes, covering the walls with a brown and black creeping mass . . . so many crickets were killed in the streets by automobiles that the Sundance fire department had to wash the streets of the sticky mass daily.

The Associated Press tells us that the following year, the residents, warned that the crickets would start their annual march several weeks earlier than before, prepared to stop the invaders at the city limits.

Like a medieval city preparing for invaders, Sundance arranged for protection with hot oil and a wall. Miles of tin fence, a little more than a foot high were erected about the city.

Crickets piled up behind the strip of tin. There they were saturated with oil and burned.

The defense was successful.

There has not yet risen any person anywhere to assert that they do not believe this published statement. But there are some who say they do not believe the following:

"And the Lord said unto Moses, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh; lo, he cometh forth to the water; and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Let my people go, behold I will send swarms of flies upon thee, and upon thy servants and upon thy people, and into thy houses; and the houses of the Egyptians shall be full of swarms of flies, and also the ground whereon they are. And I will sever in that day the land of Goshen, in which my people dwell, that no swarms of flies shall be there; the end that thou mayest know that I am the Lord in the midst of the earth. And I will put a division between my people and thy people; tomorrow shall this sign be. And the Lord did so; and there came a grievous swarm of flies into the house of Pharaoh, and into his servants houses, and into all the land of Egypt; the land was corrupted by reason of the swarm of flies (Exodus 8:20-24).

We don't doubt the report of the cricket invasion of Sundance, Wyoming.

We should as quickly affirm the truth of the Bible account of the swarms of flies in Egypt.

every episode is written with sophistication which is befitting an author who has written stories for the "New Yorker."

It is the boys, just two "ordinary" boys as Mrs. Fanning says of them, who are outstanding in this comedy. They are lonely during their week with their brittle Aunt and so summon in imagination the hounds Lantano, Barbaro, Margano, Calypso, Nicanor and Sereno from a picture on Mrs. Fanning's dining room wall as their companions. They test each member of the household as friends or just sympathizers in their activities and interests which for George, the younger is a glass harp with beautiful prisms, and for Lucius, the older, the building of churches with bricks.

When George finds the adults wanting, he reacts with a profanity, "Great Jumping God" or "a damned hollow time we're having" at the end of their forced visit, Mrs. Fanning's house is not the same because there are three who will depart plus the reader who could have enjoyed staying through for a couple of chapters more—at least until the present hazy heat is ended by a thunderstorm.

'Ranchers' Round-up' Held For Summer Reading Club

One hundred one children attended the "Ranchers' Round-Up" party held Thursday afternoon at the Freeport Memorial Library for members of the summer reading club. Boys and girls were divided into outfits, each having its specific brand.

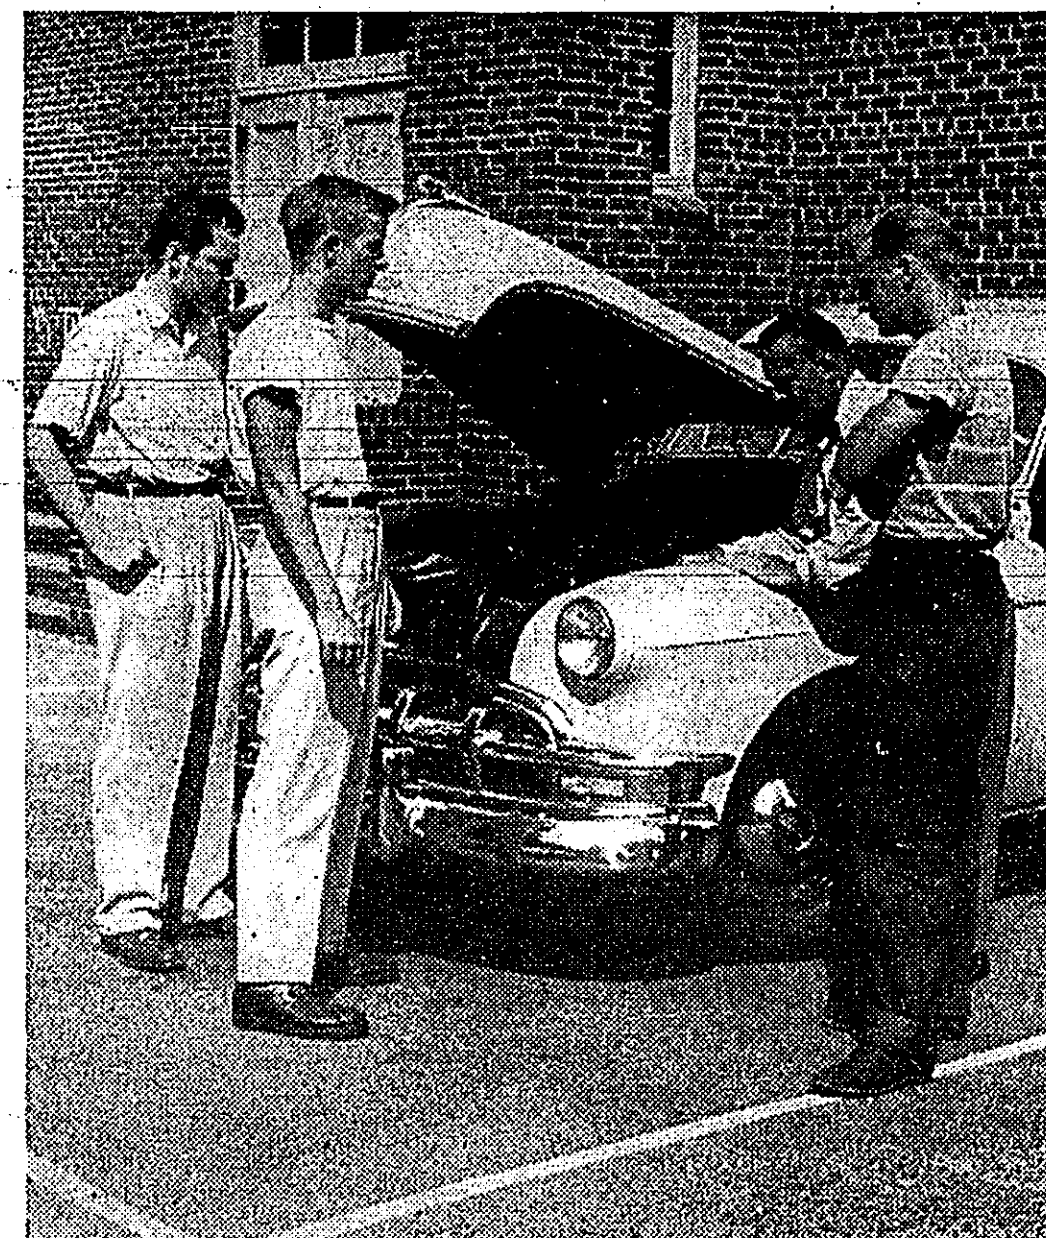

Outfit leaders, including Judy Mocking, Pat Mackenzie, Maura Doran, Gladys Pfister, Elizabeth Walsh and Barbara Doechner, assisted by staff members led their groups in relay contests and games appropriate for the occasion. Beverly Brunes and Michael Spitz received Cowboy hats for guessing most correctly the number of inches in a larlat. Mary Shebar and Andy Saezgrski were given lariats as consolation prizes. Refreshments of cake and soda were served to all attending.

Participation in the Reading Club will extend through Aug. 31. At that time, members, now reaching 220, may take their colorful cowboy booklets and card, as a record of the summer reading they have done for fun.

Bill Ashley's CORNER

The weeks since the publication of our last column have quickly passed and once again athletic news that may be interesting to our readers is cropping up.

In about two weeks the scholastic football season for 1950 opens. However, it is too late to wait until then for the important task of conditioning for a mid-September game and consequently most ball players start working by themselves well in advance of this to be ready to go, soon after regular practice starts.

During the summer months much important work towards getting a season under way begins. The coaches work on systems of offense and defense and the players on conditioning, techniques, etc. As much as possible the coach tries to set up his offense around the type of players that are returning. Certain basic things remain the same but changes here and there are made on the basis of strength or lack of it in passing, kicking, running, etc.

With big power runners more stress is put on straight ahead stuff while faster smaller backs call for break away plays. All of this can come from the same formation that has been used in the past or from different formations. There are no easy ways to success in football, most of it being hard work and good competitive boys. All major systems have advantages and disadvantages and all are capable of winning games. The sad time for a coach is when boys capable of playing this demanding game are not available.

Organization, good scouting, the ability to teach fundamentals such as line play, blocking and tackling and the ability to instill spirit and morale are the factors that make for good football. No one in this game has a lot of fancy plays that aren't pretty much available to every one else. Of course trick plays have their place but execution is the thing that makes them work.

With our Freeport ball team we put as much effort into this business of morale and attitude as possible and from time to time keep in contact with our boys during the summer months. Perhaps it would be of interest to include part of one of our summer letters to the team. Which shows fairly well what we are attempting to do with our football program here in Freeport.

The July issue was in part as follows:

"Conditioning: As usual at this time, the big objective is getting in shape. It is now time to start running, working on arm and shoulder muscles, stomach exercises, etc.

"I am enclosing report cards which will help you in a conditioning program. Send them to me at 371 Pine St. Mail them on Monday mornings.

"These are for your benefit and if you have the attitude that we want, you will conscientiously work to get ready and to regularly send in these reports.

"Remember—we do not have time to spend getting into shape after the season starts and we must be ready to start right in on Sept. 1st.

South Shore Y.C. Juvenile Swimmers Defeat Inexperienced Sea Cliff Team

Engaging in their first meet, the youthful swimmers of the Sea Cliff Yacht Club were no match for the more experienced representatives of the South Shore Yacht Club, who won the match Saturday in their own waters by a count of 100 points to 15. However, the visitors had one stand-out in the person of Quinn Monsen, who finished first in three events for boys, 13 and 14 years old, the free style, the back stroke and the breast stroke, to account for nine of his team's points. In fact the visitors swept the free style event, Jed Dagarti, taking second place, and John Birmingham, third.

The Sea Cliff squad consisted of only eleven members, but they had a good time and perhaps when the Freeporters journey to the north shore later in the month for a return match the beginners will give a better account of themselves.

For the South Shore contingent, Peter Woods, Betty Conboy and Pat Steenken, won two races each, and the following finished first in one each: Betty Conboy, Peter Woods, Jean McAndrews, Paul Conboy, Nancy Boehmke, Elmore Keener, Barbara Brem, David Carver and Gail Hauckey.

Next Saturday the Freeporters will take a trip to Northport to meet the Edgewater Yacht Club squad in a meet.

Saturday's summaries follow:

Boys, 15-17, Free Style, 50 yards: Won by Peter Woods, South Shore; second, Elmore Keener, South Shore; third, Jed Dagarti, Sea Cliff. Time 30.5.

Girls, 15-17, Free Style, 50 yards: Won by Charlotte Carver, second, Barbara Brem, third, Justine Mace, all South Shore. Time 35.2.

Boys, 13-14, Free Style, 50 yards: Won by Quinn Monsen, second, Jed Dagarti, third, John Birmingham, all Sea Cliff. Time 28.2.

Girls, 13-14, Free Style, 50 yards: Won by Betty Conboy, second, Pat Steenken, third, Don Boehmke, all South Shore. Time 34.6.

Boys, 11-12, Free Style, 50 yards: Won by Peter Woods, South Shore; second, John Birmingham, Sea Cliff. Time 31.1.

Girls, 11-12, Free Style, 50 yards: Won by Jean McAndrews, second, Barbara Brem, third, Justine Mace, all South Shore. Time 39.4.

Boys, 7-9, Free Style, 25 yards: Won by Paul Conboy, second, Gil Rotford, both South Shore. Time 24.1.

Girls, 7-9, Free Style, 25 yards: Won by Nancy Boehmke, second, Judy Titus, third, Jane Haughey, Time 25.3.

Boys, 15-17, breast stroke, 50 yards: Won by Peter Woods, second, Tom Fielemann, third, Don Boehmke, all South Shore. Time 47.4.

lot of sunshine. It's debilitating. (Look that one up with Mr. Webster.)

"Even in this day of the forward pass, football games are still won and lost by blocking and tackling. As you have heard in the past, and will hear again and again, anybody who wants to, can tackle or block. You may not all be broken field runners or star kickers but if you have the old attitude and determination you will do all right in this game of football.

"Tackling is natural for an aggressive boy. Get in close, don't close your eyes and drive hard, head up and waist high. Put your shoulder into the ball and again, and hit with the idea of not merely getting the man but of putting him down hard. The mark of a good defensive team is to be found in their spirit of resisting any advance, and letting John do it. Gang tackling is a characteristic of West Point football as any of their opponents will testify. Let's have it part of ours.

"On the other hand, blocking is the mark of a good offensive team. This is especially true of down field blocking. You must train yourself not to stand around and be a spectator but rather to get down in front of the ball and to knock some one down. If you have the right attitude for this game, you will get a great pleasure out of a hard block, so knock 'em down as long as the whistle hasn't blown.

"Now to play this kind of football, requires real conditioning. You can get by if you stand around, but to get into every play both on offense and defense 100%, requires that you be in top shape. This year we must have that as our attitude. If we can get it we will really have something that will give us a terrific advantage as most teams do not have it to the degree that it can be developed.

"The way to develop this attitude is to realize that as a football player you have responsibilities to yourself, your parents, and to your school. It is a privilege to have these responsibilities as it sets you apart as being able to achieve something that just isn't had by the majority.

"Good attitude shows itself in many ways: the ability to take your coaching, getting dressed and on the field in a hurry, trying in all ways to improve the play of your position.

The winner of the South Shore championship of the Junior Kiwanis League will be decided Tuesday night.

The Freeport Barons who were undefeated last year, were still in the running until last night when the club was scheduled to play the Garden City Jets at Allen Field, Rockville Centre. However, THE LEADER went to press before that hour, too soon to ascertain which team will take on Far Rockaway at Allen Field on Tuesday night in the last of the play-offs for the section title.

Freeport ended the regular season with a record of 8 victories and 2 defeats in League competition. In its final contests it defeated Lakeview A, 16 to 7, and Lakeview B, 19 to 3. The Barons were to have played Long Beach in the first of the play-offs Saturday at Allen Field but the latter team forfeited 9 to 0, enabling the locals to remain in the competition.

A Scene from the Movie 'Annie Get Your Gun'

'Annie Get Your Gun' Next Attraction At The Grove--Life of Annie Oakley

A new generation is growing up with the idea that Annie Oakley is just a character in a musical play or in a Technicolor picture from M-G-M, both entitled "Annie Get Your Gun."

Actually, Annie was a very real person, one of the most fabulous of her era.

She was born Phoebe Anne Oakley Mozzie in a log cabin in Darke County, Ohio, Aug. 13, 1860. Her childhood was rugged, especially after her father died of exposure in a blizzard when she was four. Annie was only six when she took her father's muzzle-loading rifle into the woods to forage for food. The two quail she brought back added considerably to the skimpily-dinner menu. She never "learned" to shoot—it just came naturally.

When Annie's mother married again, the child made her home with a Mrs. Edington, whose husband was superintendent of a county infirmary. When a seemingly affluent man drove up one day in a shiny buggy and requested a girl to care for his wife and small baby, Mrs. Edington suggested Annie.

It turned out to be an unpleasant interlude. In the notes she left, Annie never referred to this family by name; she called them "The Wolves."

In those days, shooting matches were favorite sporting events, and Darke County had its quota of expert marksmen. But Annie made them all look a little silly. Frank Butler, a professional, came to Cincinnati and, as was his custom, offered to shoot against anyone for $100 a side. Annie Mozzie took him up on it. She not only won the match, she won Frank Butler. Six months later they were married and went on the road together as Butler and Oakley. Annie was just fifteen.

The Phoebe and Mozzie were dropped from her name forever. Soon she was the feature of the shooting act.

After ten years of vaudeville headlining and exhibition shooting, Annie and Frank joined Buffalo Bill's Original Wild West Show. Between seasons Annie had been attending school. By now, Frank Butler was her business manager. This was a great turning point in Annie's career. The show, on Mark Twain's suggestion, went to London and set up for business in Earl's Court, where it played for six months, climaxed by a command performance for Queen Victoria.

Later they toured Spain, France and Germany, where Annie is reported to have shot the ashes from a cigarette in the mouth of the then young Kaiser Wilhelm—at his request.

In 1921 Annie had all the medals she had won in Europe and America melted down and sold the gold. The proceeds she gave to charity. Sensing death was near, she returned to Greenville, Ohio, in her native Darke County, where she died in 1926, already a legend. Her ashes are buried besides her beloved Frank Butler, who followed her eighteen days later.

But they live on in M-G-M's Technicolor "Annie Get Your Gun," with Betty Hutton as Annie and Howard Keel as Frank, which will open at Century's Freeport Theatre next Wednesday.

Double Bill this Week At the Strand Theatre

Present 'Native Son' And 'The Respectful Prostitute' on Stage

Two very exciting attractions began a week's engagement at the Strand Theatre, Rockville Centre, Tuesday, with the first performances of the internationally famous "The Respectful Prostitute" and the powerful "Native Son." It marked the first time two full-length stage plays have been offered for one evening's entertainment.

"The Respectful Prostitute" deals with small town Southerners hunting an innocent negro charged with attacking a white woman. The chase is a cover up for the wanton murder of another negro. A drama dealing with the pressure applied to a woman who follows the world's most ancient profession, it is a tense, moving study of the girl's horror and fear.

"Native Son," the other half of the first, double-bill-on-stage-ever offered, is Susan Laurence's version of the Paul Green-Richard Wright melodrama. Written in a realistic fashion it chronicles the adventures of a poor, uneducated youngster straight to the electric chair. All the thrills of tracking down the criminal, who accidentally murders the drunken, amorous daughter of a household in which he works; all the gory details of his trial, are told with no punches pulled.

The cast, doubling in both plays, is headed by Elizabeth Dillon in the title role in "The Respectful Prostitute" and an important part in "Native Son." Lance-Taylor, who was in "Anna Lucasta," plays the title role in "Native Son." Others in the company include Richard Hale, Ken Rerard, Nell Harrison, Alfred Galt, Terry Little, Helen Martin and Loy Nilson who directs both plays.

Seats are now on sale for the first musical of the season, "Fanny's Rainbow" which will play the Strand the week commencing Tuesday, Aug. 29.

TO PREACH ON WORLD PEACE "A World Peace" is the subject on which the Rev. R. G. Harris, pastor, will preach at the Second Baptist Church Sunday at 11 A.M.
